

Welcome to the Unpromised Lands, a world ravaged by nuclear apocalypse. Society has reverted to a frontier mentality, where a quick draw, or bloody fists, mean the difference between life and death. Jay Boon is a stranger in a town where everyone knows everyone else. He has no memories and no idea what he is doing here. Taken in by a local farmer, Jay is given a chance to prove himself and regain his identity. But with a corrupt town council, murderous highwaymen, and a fascist paramilitary group calling the shots, war looms on the horizon and threatens to destroy the town. Unless he can find a way to stop it.
